

XPOLICE Agent Profile

Frank Alfano & Alyssa Henderson

Frank Alfano began his career in October 1990 when he started out being trained by a lawyer and defending friends pro bono. Although the first few years were incredibly tough and lined with challenges, this simply made him the litigator he is today. Razer sharp and doesn't miss a trick. Frank is now second to none in a courtroom. When you just need to win, look no further. The undisputed gotta win paralegal of XPOLICE, whose reputation is to breath life into cases which have none, Frank repeatedly puts quality over quantity in pursuit of great results for his clients.

Alyssa Henderson of the Burlington Office of XPOLICE graduated from Humber College in their Law Clerk program in 2009. Wanting to further her education and face some new challenges, she went into Humber's Paralegal Studies program where she graduated with honours in 2010. In February 2010 she did her field placement with Frank Alfano, XPOLICE Burlington where she was discovered for the talented paralegal that she is.

Having passed the Law Society of Upper Canada licensing examination in August of 2010, she has become an incredible case managing and litigating paralegal, Alyssa both manages and exceeds client expectations. Her in office case management compliments Frank Alfano's courtroom litigation skills.

As a team, these 2 will lead you to Victory.
